

Dodge Coupe 1937

Posted by julian98 - 08 May 2015 13:04

Hello

Does anyone know of a model - any scale - of a 1937 Dodge Coupe ?

Being a car nut - my neighbour has asked me to find a model of one for her partner who has a 1:1 example. Any help gratefully received

Hello Jullian98, I would expect one of the US model kit companies to have made a model of this car, I know 'AMT' have made a Chevrolet coupe plastic kit, that is very close and a competent modeller could convert into the 1937 Dodge Coupe.

Does it look like this?

May might be the website. Selling 1:24 scale out of production models by Danbury Mint.

TheRollerman, There may be competent modelers, YES.

Many years ago, I loved and did many an AMT stock as well as custom, but you could always see the base car .

..... a Dodge is a Dodge, and a Chevy is a Chevy.

Many thanks for the replies to date.

The photo is of the correct car. Cant see anything on the Gasloine alley site at present but will keep checking.
