On the rear Quarter panel and the back of the doors, is that decalling or airbrushing. Curious Jim

Jim that is airbrushed!! what i was trying to do on this is expand my realm of paint jobs!! lol!! i usually just paint solid colors or a simple 2-tone paint job!! and on this i was trying to be creative!! i dint like it at first but it grows on ya!! lol!! it looks alot better in person!!

This looks sharp, love the different colors you used on it, very creative.

Where did you find the tubs? I've got a 63 Nova from Trumpeter that I tubbed with .040 and I like those tubs you have much better than mine.

OK thanks. I had to bend the .040 plastic into shape to make it work. I'd rather have replaced it like you did, but couldn't find a doner kit. I'm not going quite that radical with my Nove, just wanted to tuck a wider tire under the rear end.

I think you did a very good job of mating the two halves together.
