

Majorette - Bernard truck

Posted by RVREVO - 26 Aug 2010 02:38

There are many reasons why I like this little truck. One is personal, but the other I can share. I first got the Shell truck when I became 6yo. We emigrated to New Zealand a few years later and my brother's friend Aaron lost a good chunk of my cars godknowswhere. As Majorette wasn't sold in New Zealand it would be a total fluke to get this particular truck back, but I did. Paid 5 bucks for the complete unit at a local secondhand shop a few years later.

It was my truck - and I got it back.

Back in Holland during the 90s found all the other Bernard trucks you see in the picture. But how sharp are your eyes??? not all are what they appear to be.
