

Catalog slot track practice.

Posted by mgongarcia - 23 Dec 2011 03:40

Hello, many may already know me, some not, I am the author of the blog "My slot circuits."

I have taken a further step in this work and have inventoried the circuits in an Excel file, and I have found, as Christmas gifts, how to share it with everyone, the file is too large to post on the blog, so I'm going to parties to the blog header tabs.

The first tab has the smaller circuits 300 blog, ordered increasingly by the largest dimension version circuit scalextric, bearing in mind that if Ninco design scalextric dimensions are approximate.

miscircuitosdeslot.blogspot.com/p/catalo...-de-circuitos-i.html

The second tab is the 302 circuits with fewer standard curves of the blog, increasingly ordered up to 25 curves, and when there is agreement are sorted by the number of interior curves.

miscircuitosdeslot.blogspot.com/p/catalo...-de-circuitos-ii.html

I also share with you the last two blog entries.

The first one spectacular set of circuits that are mounted in Loeches (Madrid) on days 2, 3 and 4 January to collect food for Caritas.

The set has dimensions 11 x 5 and has four circuits occupying the same space, a reproduction of the Jarama circuit in Madrid of 35 m, the envelope, with 27m, avoiding curves that could blow the kids' cars that stick to trigger, an analog inner loop 4 lane and 19m for the children, and to encourage the installation of a 20m circuit trains, dodging all scalextric tracks

miscircuitosdeslot.blogspot.com/2011/12/...el-de-evento-en.html

And two tracks that appeared in the December issue of Slotmagazine, Tutti Frutti circuits that have everything they are two circuits that mount all possible allowances, intersections, chicanes, pit box, etc, includes two videos of the circuits .

I hope you like the tracks and the catalog will be useful.

A healthy and happy Christmas.
