So I got another one of those 1/24 models by Fabbri from the collection Quattroruote magazine put out in Italy. This one is the microcartastic Fiat 600 Multipla, complete with opening bonnet and front doors:

Fantastic little car and great detailing too. The book looks very informative and I am sure is loaded with info on the car. I too would like to know where these are available. Can't imagine with it would cost me to have it shipped to Canada though. LOL

The model of the 600 Multipla comes in several colours too.

If you're a Roger Moore 'The Saint' fan you'll undoubtedly recognise this small van as the taxi used in the early series by Simon Templar's buddy in Italy.

Thanks everyone - unfortunately there's nowhere online except eBay to buy these and this is one of the more sought-after models from the Quattroruote collection, so it's gotten hard to find even on there!
